Visa, Insurance and Arrival

Visa and Health Insurance

Visa Information

Citizens of these countries do not need a visa to enter Germany:

- EU citizens
- Iceland
- Norway
- Liechtenstein
- Switzerland

Visa Process

Citizens of the following countries may enter Germany without a visa, then apply for a residence permit within the first three months of their stay:

- Australia, Brazil, Canada, El Salvador, Honduras, Israel, Japan, New Zealand, Republic of Korea, United States of America, United Kingdom

Students from countries not listed above require a student visa and should arrange for one well in advance.

Visa Application

Students that require a visa would normally need to prepare the following documents (confirm this with your respective embassy or consulate):

- Visa Application Form
- Valid passport
- Constructor University Admission Letter
- Proof of sufficient funding **
- Proof of health insurance valid in Germany
- Biometric passport photograph

*Please consult the Visa Information System on the Proof of sufficient funding requirement.

Please allow six to eight weeks for your visa application to be approved.

Health Insurance in Germany

Students in Germany are required to provide their university with a proof of valid health insurance to be enrolled in a German university and to obtain student visa or residence permit for their studies.

Therefore, Constructor University requires from students (upon enrolment) to provide either:

- Proof of insurance with a German public health insurance company OR
- Proof of insurance with a public health insurance company from the EU, usually in the form of a European Health Insurance Card OR
- A dispensation from the obligation to insure with a public health insurance company (for those privately insured). The dispensation can only be issued by a German public health insurance company upon inspection of the private insurance shown by the student.

Dispensations from the obligation to insure with a public company will not be granted if:

- Your private foreign or German health insurance covers only a limited period of time, namely less than the entire duration of your studies in Germany.
- Your private foreign or German health insurance has an upper limit for the coverage of outpatient and inpatient treatment.
- The medical assistance covered by the private foreign or German health insurance does not correspond to the coverage offered by the German public health insurance.

The following health insurance company is an official partner of Constructor University:

Techniker Krankenkasse (TK)

In the following video you learn about what to do for getting a health insurance in Germany as a foreign student:

Apply for TK, public health insurance, and complimentary travel insurance for your visa online:

Students who require a visa, need two insurances - one for the visa requirement (travel insurance) and one for the enrollment (public insurance). Through the link above you can obtain the public insurance and a complimentary travel insurance.

Arrival

Arrival to Airport

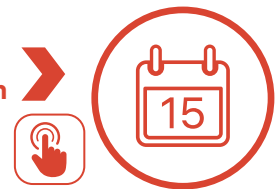

You should plan to arrive on campus during Arrival Day:

- Please plan to arrive on the official Arrival Day.
- Airport pick-up service is only available on Arrival Day.

Kindly let us know the exact time of your arrival in Bremen as soon as possible through arrival survey

Please check the Academic Calendar on the Constructor website to confirm when your classes will begin

Arrival to Campus

Multiple shuttle buses will be operating on the official Arrival Day. Incoming Fall students flying into Bremen on this day can take the shuttle bus to Constructor University. Please note this service is not available during the Spring semester.

Find out more about the campus map and directions on our website - click the map

Registration in Germany

All students – regardless of nationality - must register with the local authorities within 14 days of arrival in any German residence.

We will help you with the registration process, however you are required to bring the following documents:

- Passport, color photo copy of your passport, and a headshot photo.
- The registration form ‚Anmeldeformular‘ is available during Orientation Week or through the QR below.

Residence Permit Information

All students outside the EU need to apply for a residence permit once in Germany. The cost for the residence permit is €100. You will receive an email to guide you through the process in the first weeks of enrollment.

For the residence permit, you normally need to present the following documents:

- Valid passport
- Proof of health insurance valid in Germany (please see pg. 8 for more info)
- Resident Permit Application Form
- Proof of Local Registration (Meldebescheinigung, available during Orientation Week)
- One or two biometric passport photos
- Proof of enrolment (Immatrikulationsbescheinigung, available during Orientation Week)

Campus life

Living in Bremen Germany

Constructor University is based in the north of Bremen – a city with a maritime atmosphere and 1,200 years of history. Bremen hosts half a million residents while the city offers bike and walking friendly routes, convenient train-lines, and high quality living standards. The historical market square is famous for Bremen's mascots, the Town Musicians from the Brothers Grimm fairy tale, and is a UNESCO World Heritage site. More than 30,000 students live and study in Bremen and nearby Bremerhaven which together form the Bundesland (state) Bremen.

Academic Life

Course Information and Registration

During your studies at Constructor University you will be taking four to six courses per semester (typically 5 ECTS points each). Constructor University students usually take 30 ECTS during a semester. If you have a general admission to the Bachelor programs, you may change your major as you see fit from July 15th until the add/drop deadline by sending an email to registrar@constructor.university. After this deadline, you may do so through a form.

Students will receive access to courses and grades through CampusNet. During Orientation Week, there will be academic advising sessions to review and confirm course plans with a Constructor University Academic Advisor.

- 1 ECTS is equivalent to about 25 study hours

Students are strongly encouraged to have a pre-liminary course plan.

After the add/drop deadline no changes in course schedules are possible.

regulations and guidelines

Study Excursions

Study excursions are usually part of an academic course. Students must be registered for the courses to attend the excursion. A small fee may be invoiced to students upon registration to cover minimal travel costs.

Community Impact Project (CIP)

With the community impact project initiative, Constructor University students in their fifth semester engage in major-related projects for the benefit of the community to create positive change. With their international and strong academic background, Constructor University students support NGOs, administrative organizations, schools, businesses, or startup companies by applying their knowledge and taking on social responsibility for the greater good of the Bremen region. The CIP project may be taken for ECTS.

Financial Information

University Tuitution and Housing Fees

Visa Students

If you require a visa to study in Germany, you will be invoiced according to your Financing Offer for the first year of your studies. This is a requirement by the Visa Handbook of the German government and the local Migration office in Bremen.

EU and non-Visa Students

If you are a EU or non-Visa student, you will be invoice according to your Financing Offer for the first semester only.

Payment Deadlines

The invoice must be paid by August 1st, 2025!

Please refer to the Student Financial Services for more information.

Personal Expenses

As a suggestion, students should consider the following personal expenses per semester (these will vary from student to student):

Books & Supplies	€ 180 per semester
Health Insurance	€ 600 per semester
Laundry	€ 40 per semester
Clothing & Personal Care	€ 300 per semester
Miscellaneous Expenses	€ 450 per semester

Students may expect to receive their invoice typically shortly after signing the student contract.

Useful information

- Electricity - We suggest purchasing a voltage converter kit in addition to adapters.
- Parcels & Customs - Please be aware that any new item (in their original package) that has a declared value over $50 (for students coming from the US, items declared over $ 40) will usually be charged a customs fee upon arrival. You must declare any cash amount over € 10 000 upon entry into the European Union.
- Getting around - Walking, cycling and public transports are the best modes of transport in Bremen- you certainly don't need a car! Bremen has more than 650 kilometres of excellent cycling paths.
